Student Contributions
Each student will spend at least 6 hours per week preparing for class. Attendance is critical in this class.

Because this is a reading intensive course, students need to prepare accordingly. Also, students must demonstrate ability to read critically as well as analyze and interpret assigned works, using the various approaches to understanding poetry.

Participation in small group and full-class discussions through the student's response journal is both fundamental and mandatory.

Course Evaluation
Student evaluation and progress in the course will be determined by exams; class participation, which will mainly be conducted through the reading-response journal; a minimum of two short essays; and a research paper.

The length and scope of responses, short essays, and research paper will be determined in class.

Grades will be assigned in accordance to the College's grading scale found at the TCL website.

Course Schedule
The class meets for 3 lecture/presentation hours per week.

Developed/Revised: March 9, 2010

GRADING METHODOLOGY
The final grade must be 70 or more in order to pass the course and progress in the program. Students absent from an examination or presentation will receive a “0” grade for the examination unless other arrangements are made with the individual instructor prior to the examination or presentation day or on the examination or presentation day before the test/presentation is scheduled to be given.

The student is responsible for notifying the instructor for the reason of the absence. It is also the responsibility of the student to contact the appropriate instructor to arrange to make up the examination. Arrangements may be completed by telephone.

If the instructor is not available, a message should be left on the instructor’s voice mail AND with another member of the faculty or administrative assistant. The make-up exam will be scheduled and the instructor will decide the method of examination. Messages sent by other students are unacceptable.
