SOC 101

Introduction to Sociology

Course Description
This course emphasizes the fundamental concepts and principles of sociology, including culture, socialization, interaction, social groups and stratification, effects of population growth and technology in society and social institutions.

Prerequisite or Co requisite: ENG 101

3.0 Cr (3 lect/pres, 0 lab, 0 other)

Course Focus
This course empowers students to understand the world around them through a sociological lens, so they can better understand sociology and their own lives. The course will help students find and use sociology in everyday life and demonstrate how society around us influences how we act and even what we think and how we feel. A complete theoretical framework and a global perspective will be discussed as an introduction to sociology.

SOC 101 CORE CURRICULUM COMPETENCIES

All courses approved for the general education core curriculum help students develop communication skills and/or critical thinking.

This course develops communication and critical thinking skills for both writers and readers. Students are expected to contribute to the threaded discussion questions in areas such as culture, socialization, sexuality, deviance, social stratification, race and ethnicity. Responses must be substantive and show evidence of reflection and thought. They should add new information, or in some way enhance the learning of others in the course by providing additional resources. Students will also be required to write a research paper that includes at least four journal articles from databases available through the TCL library website.

EMERGENCY TEXT MESSAGE ALERT
Students, faculty and staff are highly encouraged to opt in to the Emergency Text Message Alert System. Participants receive immediate notification of emergency events and weather cancelations via text messaging on their cell phones. Participants can also opt in to receive non-emergency news and announcements. Go to www.tcl.edu. On the homepage, click on “emergency TextAlert at TCL” and fill out the form or go to www.tcl.edu/textalert.asp

GRADING METHODOLOGY
The final grade must be 70 or more in order to pass the course and progress in the program. Students absent from an examination or presentation will receive a “0” grade for the examination unless other arrangements are made with the individual instructor prior to the examination or presentation day or on the examination or presentation day before the test/presentation is scheduled to be given. The student is responsible for notifying the instructor for the reason of the absence. It is also the responsibility of the student to contact the appropriate instructor to arrange to make up the examination. Arrangements may be completed by telephone.
If the instructor is not available, a message should be left on the instructor’s voice mail AND with another member of the faculty or administrative assistant. The make-up exam will be scheduled and the instructor will decide the method of examination. Messages sent by other students are unacceptable.
