GET TO KNOW College Leadership

DEAR FRIENDS,

What's in a name? Though a rose may smell just as sweet regardless of what it's called, I contend that there's much to be revered in a name. Take the name "Technical College of the Lowcountry" for example. Who we are is all right there in our name.

Technical speaks to the career-focused education and training we provide to thousands of students annually for high-skill jobs today and tomorrow. As a nationally accredited two-year community College, we offer more than 60 academic certificates, degree programs and university transfer options. And, most importantly, Lowcountry denotes our foremost commitment to our local community spanning Beaufort, Colleton, Hampton and Jasper Counties.

The naming of our new 50,000 square-foot training center, which received a $10 million appropriation from the state of South Carolina last year, is also significant. The Arthur E. Brown Regional Workforce Training Center will be built at the college's New River Campus in Bluffton. It's named for General Art Brown, a longtime TCL donor, advocate and former commissioner, to ensure his name and legacy live on for generations to come.

We were also very intentional in finding just the right name for our new mascot. Last February, TCL embarked on a months-long, community-wide initiative to choose an official mascot and gathered input from our students, alumni, employees and the community. In August, we announced the "Tides" as our mascot, a perfect representation of TCL's vision to elevate the students and communities we serve and a fitting symbol of the steadfast spirit of our students and alumni.

You'll note that this year's State of the College report focuses on the many names behind our institution—from graduates to donors to other community partners. In addition, you'll read important highlights from the past year and learn more about our plans for 2024.

Names matter. They certainly help define who we are as a college. I encourage you to get to know us by name, whether that be our faculty and staff, our programs of study or our students and alumni. As our partners in higher education and workforce development, we promise to welcome you by name to any of our campuses anytime.

Sincerely,

Richard J. Gough, Ed.D.

College Highlights

TCL OPENS COLLETON LOCATION

TCL opened a new location in Colleton County in the summer of 2023, thanks to a special partnership with the Colleton Adult Learning Center (CALC) and the Colleton County School District. Housed at the CALC, TCL Colleton offers fast-track industrial, computer and allied health courses through its Kozak Office of Workforce Development. Classes include certified nurse aide (CNA), phlebotomy, medical administrative assistant, certified production technician, CompTIA and more.

BCSD, TCL ANNOUNCE TIDES HIGH SCHOOL DUAL ENROLLMENT PROGRAM

Beaufort County School District and TCL will launch a new full-time dual enrollment option for ninth graders at TCL's New River and Beaufort Mather Campuses in fall 2024. Students will take college-level, degree-seeking courses taught by TCL instructors. While in high school, BCSD Tides cohorts can earn two associate degrees and a technical certificate from TCL in a variety of college and career pathways.

TCL COMPLETES MOOR HALL RENOVATION; HUB OPENS TO STUDENTS

The HUB opened in the fall of 2023 and serves as the college's one-stop enrollment center, housing admissions, advising, financial aid, testing and more. A culmination of many years of work and community support, the building dates to 1939 and was original to the Mather School that opened in 1868 during Reconstruction and eventually became TCL. In 2020, The Mather School was named part of the Reconstruction Era National Historic Network by the National Park Service.

S.C. ALLOCATES $10 MILLION TO REGIONAL WORKFORCE TRAINING CENTER

The State of South Carolina's 2023 budget included a $10 million appropriation for TCL's new Arthur E. Brown Regional Workforce Training Center to be built in Bluffton. The 50,000-square-foot, high-tech facility will allow the college to add and expand programs to meet current and future workforce needs in the Lowcountry and beyond. With capacity for up to 850 students, programs will include manufacturing, automated systems, logistics, business, computer technology and more. The project is estimated to cost around $26 million with a three-to-four year approval process and construction timeline. The college is partnering with local government and private industry to secure remaining funding and will break ground in the spring of 2024.

TCL CHARTERS TRI-ALPHA HONOR SOCIETY, RECOGNIZING FIRST-GENERATION COLLEGE STUDENTS

TCL established a chapter of Alpha Alpha Alpha, an Honor Society specifically dedicated to first-generation college students. TCL President Dr. Richard Gough, a first-generation college student himself, was one of 14 faculty, staff and student inductees recognized at a special induction ceremony in November.

KING ARTHUR BAKING COMPANY & TCL CULINARY INSTITUTE OF THE SOUTH HOST RECIPE CONTEST

CIS and America's oldest baking company, King Arthur, launched the first ever "Tastes Like Home Recipe Contest" last fall. The contest invited CIS students and high school juniors and seniors in Beaufort, Colleton, Hampton and Jasper Counties to submit their favorite sweet and/or savory baking recipe that was inspired by tastes of home. Finalists will compete onsite at CIS later this spring for top prizes that include a trip to King Arthur Baking Company in Vermont along with CIS scholarships sponsored by King Arthur.

TCL FIRST S.C. TECHNICAL COLLEGE TO EARN SPECIAL VETERANS DESIGNATION

The S.C. Department of Veterans Affairs (SCDVA) recently recognized TCL with a silver-grade academic award as part of its Military Academic Recognition Program. TCL is the first technical college in the state to receive the award, earning a "South Carolina Veteran Friendly Higher Education Institution" designation. The college joins the ranks of other S.C. higher education institutions such as Clemson and USC to have received an SCDVA designation.

SECURITIES OPERATION CENTER OPENS ON BEAUFORT CAMPUS

The SOC recently opened at the Beaufort Mather Campus. Led by TCL IT staff and monitored by interns and students in the college's cybersecurity program, the center's aim is to evaluate incoming digital information and help protect the TCL community from cyberattacks and threats. Establishing a SOC is part of the college's overall plan to apply for the National Security Agency's Centers of Academic Excellence in Cybersecurity designation (CAE-CD).

CONGRATULATIONS

TCL Class of 2023

TCL recognized 321 students at its annual commencement ceremony held in May. Students earned college certificate, diploma and associate degrees from more than 50 programs of study including nursing, computer technology, early care and education, business administration, culinary arts and many more. Importantly, most of these new graduates will go to work in local hospitals, construction companies, small businesses and more right here across the Lowcountry. Also of note, 43 graduates were high school students who earned college degrees and certificates through the dual enrollment program.

BY THE NUMBERS

- 321: Number of Grads
- 57: Programs Represented
- 43: Dual Enrolled Students

WE MEAN BUSINESS

Advisory Committees

GUIDING THE FUTURE WORKFORCE: The college's Advisory Committees provide invaluable input and professional counsel to a variety of programs and curriculum. Made up of local and regional industry, business, government and educational representatives, these experts act as a communication link between the college and the community to ensure ongoing program relevancy and graduate competency.

I strive to give a real-world perspective to the program, making sure that the students are not only prepared to take the state board exams but that they are excited and engaged in real-world salon experiences. We care about student success now and in the future.

AMPLIFYING IMPACT

The TCL Foundation

Established to serve the Technical College of the Lowcountry, The TCL Foundation is a tax-exempt 501(c)(3) organization and accepts contributions on behalf of the college. Like community colleges nationally, TCL relies on local support to advance its mission.

TCL is state-assisted—not state-supported—and receives 18% of its operating budget from the State of South Carolina. In order to keep tuition affordable, the college depends on generous philanthropic support to sustain and expand its facilities, academic programs, student support services and more.

Donor gifts are instrumental in allowing TCL to serve more students and graduate more skilled workers. Thereby, donors who ensure TCL's future also ensure a stronger local economy and better business climate.

LEARN MORE: www.tcl.edu/foundation

WAYS TO GIVE

- The TCL Fund empowers TCL to respond quickly to immediate or emerging education and workforce training needs of the Lowcountry.
- The TCL Guarantors Program helps deserving students faced with financial challenges to stay in school.
- The President's Fund for Opportunity & Excellence supports faculty, facilities, teaching supplies and instructional equipment.
- TCL Scholarship recognizes student financial need and merit in equal measure.
- The Mather Legacy Society includes donors who have named TCL in their estate plans or as a beneficiary of another planned gift or who create an endowment.

GIVE NOW: www.tcl.edu/give

TCL accomplishments are achieved with your help. In the last five years alone, donor investment helped build the Culinary Institute of the South, created valuable workforce training scholarships, funded much-needed classroom technology and equipment and so much more. Together we have transformed individuals and communities. Let's continue to build future together.

TCL and the Foundation are uniquely positioned to enhance our community and the lives of our residents in three fundamental ways: by providing a wide array of educational opportunities to students to learn, earn credits, discover and pursue great careers; by attracting high quality, experienced and dedicated educators and staff; and by providing talented and qualified associates to local businesses. These attributes combine to make TCL and the Foundation real difference-makers in our area.

We invest in TCL because we see the need in our community and we have witnessed TCL's commitment to meet that need through dedicated instruction and pragmatic management of all their resources, both human and fiscal. TCL is a great resource for our community and we are happy to support their efforts to provide a well-trained workforce that is so vital at this time.

GIVING FROM WITHIN

Faculty & Staff Donors

TCL SUPPORTING TCL: Each year, TCL Faculty and Staff join together in support of the college and give back. Faculty and staff choose to give to student scholarship, dedicated departmental funds, the President's Fund and to the Guarantor's Program—the college's Student Emergency Fund—just to name a few. Last year's annual Faculty & Staff Giving Campaign, "I Give," raised more than $13,000 for TCL students and programs. Thank you to these generous employees for giving back and helping advance TCL's mission and vision.

DREAMS TO REALITY

TCL Scholarship

COMMUNITY SUPPORTING COMMUNITY: Technical College of the Lowcountry Foundation has awarded more than $2M in scholarship funds since its founding in 1983. Scholarship at TCL is made possible by the steadfast and generous support of local donors and donor organizations from throughout the Lowcountry. The TCL Foundation is the steward of more than 30 named scholarships and makes awards on an annual basis. 2023 scholarship recipients included:

SCHOLARSHIP IN ACTION: Last April, The Hospital Auxiliary awarded $9,000 to associate degree nursing students - $3,000 each to Sarah Lowther (second from right), Erin Drew (fourth from right) and Pablo Caballero (not pictured). The generous donation was made possible through a special grant the Auxiliary received from Power:ED, a non-profit that is committed to helping "South Carolina students succeed in school, their careers, and life." Also pictured are TCL Health Sciences Dean Dr. Joey Swearingen (far left), The Hospital Auxiliary President Vicki Gorbett (center) and TCL Nursing Program Director Vandy Amason (far right).
